PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 4967 would expand the “F” and “M” nonimmigrant student visa categories of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) to include nationals of Canada or Mexico who maintain actual residence and place of abode in the country of nationality, whose course of study may be full or part-time, and who commute to a United States institution or place of study from Canada or Mexico.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR THE LEGISLATION

The INA permits foreign students to study in the U.S. on temporary, or “nonimmigrant” student visas. Subsections (F) and (M) of the INA section 101(a)(15) require aliens to be full-time students to be eligible for “F” (Academic or Language Studies) or “M” (Vocational or Non-academic Studies) nonimmigrant student visas. However, some Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) districts have permitted commuter part-time students from Canada and Mexico to enter the U.S. as visitors to by-pass this statutory requirement because no visa category exists for part-time commuter students.

Since September 11, 2001, the INS has issued memoranda regarding its intent to end this practice, but permitted its continuance through the end of 2002 for students already enrolled in border schools. On August 27, 2002, the INS issued an interim rule to expand the “F” and “M” student visa categories to permit Mexican and Canadian part-time commuter students to obtain student visas. However, such a rule is open to differing interpretations across administrations. H.R. 4967 would make Congress’ intent clear that such students should be able to obtain student visas and attend U.S. schools along our borders.

HEARINGS

No hearings were held on H.R. 4967.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION

On September 25, 2002, the Subcommittee on Immigration, Border Security, and Claims met in open session and ordered favorably reported the bill H.R. 4967, by a voice vote, a quorum being present. On October 9, 2002, the Committee met in open session and ordered favorably reported the bill H.R. 4967 without amendment by voice vote, a quorum being present.

Section 2(b) amends section 101(a)(15)(M) of the INA to expand authorization for such status to include aliens who are nationals of Canada or Mexico, who maintain actual residence and place of abode in their country of nationality, who are pursuing a full or part-time course of study in vocational or non-academic studies, and who commute to the U.S. institution or place of study from Canada or Mexico.

107TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 4967

To establish new nonimmigrant classes for border commuter students.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JUNE 19, 2002

Mr. KOLBE (for himself, Mr. BONILLA, Mr. SKEEN, Mr. PASTOR, Mr. FILLNER, and Mr. REYES) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

To establish new nonimmigrant classes for border commuter students.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Border Commuter Stu-
5 dent Act of 2002”.

6 SEC. 2. ESTABLISHMENT OF BORDER COMMUTER NON- 7 IMMIGRANT CLASS.

8 (a) CLASS FOR ACADEMIC OR LANGUAGE STUD-
9 IES.—Section 101(a)(15)(F) of the Immigration and Na-
10 tionality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(15)(F)) is amended by

1 striking “and (ii)” and all that follows through the end
2 of subparagraph (F) and inserting the following: “(ii) the
3 alien spouse and minor children of any alien described in
4 clause (i) if accompanying or following to join such an
5 alien, and (iii) an alien who is a national of Canada or
6 Mexico, who maintains actual residence and place of abode
7 in the country of nationality, who is described in clause
8 (i) except that the alien’s qualifications for and actual
9 course of study may be full or part-time, and who com-
10 mutes to the United States institution or place of study
11 from Canada or Mexico;”.

12 (b) CLASS FOR VOCATIONAL OR NONACADEMIC
13 STUDIES.—Section 101(a)(15)(M) of the Immigration
14 and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(15)(M)) is amend-
15 ed by striking “and (ii)” and all that follows through the
16 end of subparagraph (M) and inserting the following: “(ii)
17 the alien spouse and minor children of any alien described
18 in clause (i) if accompanying or following to join such an
19 alien, and (iii) an alien who is a national of Canada or
20 Mexico, who maintains actual residence and place of abode
21 in the country of nationality, who is described in clause
22 (i) except that the alien’s course of study may be full or
23 part-time, and who commutes to the United States institu-
24 tion or place of study from Canada or Mexico;”.

1 (c) LIMITATION.—Section 214(m) of the Immigration
2 and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1184(m); as redesignated
3 by section 107(e)(2)(A) of P.L. 106–386) is amended by
4 striking “section 101(a)(15)(F)(i)” both places it appears
5 and inserting “clause (i) or (iii) of section 101(a)(15)(F)”.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. And the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. Gekas, to strike the last word.

Mr. GEKAS. The Immigration and Nationality Act permits foreign students to study in the U.S. on nonimmigrant student visas. Aliens must be full-time students and reside in the U.S. to be eligible for this particular nonimmigrant student visa; however, some INS districts have paroled commuter students from Canada and Mexico into the U.S. as visitors to bypass this statutory requirement because no visa category exists for part-time commuter students.

Since September 11, 2001 the INS has issued memoranda regarding its intent to end this practice of accommodating commuter students, but permitted its continuance through the end of 2002 for students already enrolled in these border schools.

On August 27, 2002 the INS issued an interim rule to expand the "F" and "M" student visa categories to permit Mexican and Canadian commuter students to obtain student visas. However, such a rule is open to differing interpretations across administrations.

Passing this bill, H.R. 4967, the "Border Commuter Student Act," would make Congress's intent clear that such Canadian and Mexican students should be able to obtain student visas and attend U.S. schools along our borders.

H.R. 4967 amends the F and M student categories of the INA to expand student visa authorization for nationals of Canada or Mexico who maintain actual residence and place of abode in the country of nationality, whose course of study may be full or part time, and who commute to the U.S. institution or place of study from Canada or Mexico.

We urge support of this bill.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. Without objection, all Members' opening statements may be placed in the record at this point.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. Are there amendments? There are no amendments. The Chair notes—

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Chairman, we have several documents that we wish to enter into the record, without objection.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. Without objection, they will be entered.

United States Department of State

Washington, D.C. 20520

OCT - 9 2002

Dear Mr. Kolbe:

This is in response to your letter of July 10 to the Secretary of State regarding the Border Commuter Student Act of 2002 (HR 4967) which would create a new nonimmigrant classification for Mexican and Canadian citizens who live near the border and want to commute each day to a U.S. school or college. Our response was delayed to accommodate input from other agencies.

The Department of State agrees that facilitation of part-time study in the U.S. for our commuting neighbors on the Canadian and Mexican borders is in our interest as well as theirs. As you know, on August 27, 2002, the Immigration and Naturalization Service published an interim rule to allow Mexican and Canadian commuter students to study as F-1 or M-1 nonimmigrants on a part-time basis at schools located within 75 miles of the United States border. The purpose of the Administration's rule is to accommodate the special relationship between the U.S. and its neighbors and to legitimize such part-time study by border commuter students while placing it in a regulated controlled process.

We have no objection to your efforts to provide explicit statutory language on this issue and would be available to work with you on any element of your legislation.

We hope this information is helpful.

Sincerely,

Paul V. Kelly
Assistant Secretary
Legislative Affairs

The Honorable
Jim Kolbe,
House of Representatives.

Dear Congressman Kolbe,

Por parte del Gobierno de México le extiendo una amplia felicitación por la introducción de la iniciativa de ley HR4967, conocida como Border Commuter Student Act of 2002, a la Cámara de Representantes de los Estados Unidos, el pasado mes de junio.

Esta iniciativa de ley es muy importante para México porque permitirá que los estudiantes mexicanos que viven en la zona fronteriza entre nuestros países puedan continuar sus estudios de tiempo parcial en territorio estadounidense, con una nueva visa que satisfaga sus necesidades académicas y cumpla con los requisitos de seguridad de Estados Unidos.

Este tipo de acciones es, sin duda alguna, el reflejo de una realidad compartida entre México y Estados Unidos, que contribuye al mejor entendimiento de nuestras sociedades, pero sobre todo a generar espacios de colaboración y cooperación que permitan el desarrollo de nuestros países.

Mentamente,

Embajador Enrique Berruga Rillo

This bill is very important to Mexico because it will permit Mexican students who live along the border between our countries to continue their part-time studies in the United States with a new visa that satisfies their academic needs and complies with the security requirements of the United States.

This sort of step is, without a doubt, the reflection of a shared reality between Mexico and the United States that contributes to the better understanding between our societies, but above all helps generate areas of collaboration and cooperation that permit the development of our countries.

Sincerely,

Ambassador Enrique Berruga Filloy
Undersecretary of Foreign Relations of Mexico
